For the information of the Chicago and Los Angeles Offices, the Bureau, by letter dated 11/9/64, granted authority to the Phoenix Office to interview [redacted] in an effort to develop this source as a top level informant.

CHICAGO DIVISION

AT CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

Will, through available sources, verify and advise Phoenix re status of SAM ENGLISH's health and his alleged hospitalization from near-fatal heart attacks.

Because the alleged deterioration of the health of SAM ENGLISH would adversely effect an interview of [redacted] no effort will be made in this regard until ENGLISH's health status is clarified by Chicago, UACB. It is felt that the natural family concern and worry of [redacted] for SAM ENGLISH would at this time place interviewing agents at a disadvantage in any attempt to cultivate this source.

SAM GIANCANA

On page 1, column 1 of the "Chicago's American" newspaper, October 2, 1964, a subheadline states, "CHARLES ENGLISH Takes the 5th in TISCI Case." This article went on to state that ENGLISH posed for pictures, but refused to answer questions as a material witness in a liable suit against the "Chicago American." The article said that ENGLISH told [redacted] attorney for the "American" that he did not want to incriminate himself. "This law suit stems from a law suit filed by ANTHONY PHILLIP TISCI, son-in-law of crime boss SAM MOONEY GIANCANA, in the amount of six million dollars." This suit was filed on the basis of an article concerning his presence in court last year in a case in which GIANCANA was seeking to enjoin the FBI from following him. ENGLISH was accompanied by Attorney [redacted] in his appearance. b6 b7C

JOE TESTA

CG T-8 advised that CHUCK ENGLISH, along with other known hoodlums such as PHIL ALDERISIO, have become angry with TESTA because of TESTA's carelessness in showing off with his money. According to CG T-8, information had come to him that TESTA had received a large sum of money during the early summer of 1964.

[redacted]

CG T-5 advised that [redacted] is reportedly operating the new snack shop at Fifthjack's for the ENGLISH brothers. [redacted] has also made trips, according to CG T-5, to the ranch in Arizona. b6 b7C

Flash Records
Phoenix, Arizona

Rimrock Ranch
Yavapai County, Arizona

CG T-3 advised that [redacted] According to CG T-3, a judgment in Maricopa County Superior Court amounts to $3,978. On July 27, 1964, [redacted] advised SA [redacted] b6 b7C

On August 18, 1964, [redacted] Deputy Sheriff, Yavapai County, Prescott, Arizona, advised SA ROY W. REGER that he had consulted the County Attorney in connection with this matter and the County Attorney had recommended the papers be returned to [redacted] attorney inasmuch as the execution was filled out improperly. [redacted] said that the property was not properly described and that the execution merely mentioned the fact that SAM and JOE ENGLISH might have an interest in the Rimrock Ranch. b6 b7C

[redacted] stated that if these papers are properly filled out and returned to him, he will serve the execution. b6 b7C

The following article appeared in the "Arizona Republic" on July 28, 1964, pertaining to the above mentioned court order:

"The Rimrock Ranch 90 miles north of Phoenix, owned by a reputed underworld figure, Sam (Fat Sam) English, and his associates, may go on the auction block to satisfy an unpaid bill.

"An order of execution in a civil debt suit filed by Al (Easy Deal) Wilson, Phoenix recording artist and producer, was sent yesterday to the office of Yavapai County Sheriff Al Ayears.

"WILSON obtained a $3,978 judgment in Maricopa County Superior Court on July 3 against English; his brother, Joe, a Phoenix record distributor; and George Vedra. The defendants were accused by Wilson of owing him for the production of 9,200 records.

"If the order of execution is processed in the usual way, Rimrock Ranch will be sold within 40 days if the money owed is not paid. However, Sheriff Ayars reportedly is planning a conference with the Yavapai County attorney to determine his next move.

"SAM ENGLISH, reputed jukebox and gambling king of the Chicago area, faced U.S. Senate investigating committees in 1953, 1954 and 1958. He took the Fifth Amendment in each appearance. Witnesses testified of bombings and terrorism, which they attributed to English associates.

"Rimrock Ranch built in 1926 during the dude ranch fad, has had a long succession of owners.

"Joe English bought the ranch in 1962 for a reported $331,400. Sam English and others became part owners later. The ranch reportedly was bought by others in 1958 for $85,000.

"SAM ENGLISH, in an interview with The Republic in January, claimed that he hoped to develop the old guest ranch into a resort for low-income families. 'For the people who can't afford the places that charge 30 bucks a day,' said English.

"Law enforcement officers unconvinced, put the ranch under surveillance.

"'Sam came to me,' said Wilson, 'and said he'd heard some of my records, and said he wanted me to record this girl singer from Chicago. He flew the girl out here and I recorded her, and then they didn't take delivery of the records.

"'We've got a stack of them right now at O'Hare Airport in Chicago, with the storage charges piling up.'

"Wilson said he read of the Englishes in the The Arizona Republic when the newspaper disclosed their purchase of the ranch.

"'Then I figured, 'what are they picking on those guys for,'' he recalled. 'I figured they were just guys trying to make a buck like anyone else.'

"WILSON said he rented a recording studio for the Chicago girl, hired musicians and arranged for the recordings to be pressed.

"'That's all expensive,' he said. 'I can't afford to get stuck on a deal like that.'

"Wilson said he has a current record on the market.

"'One side is called 'Dallas,'' he said. 'The flip is 'There'll Come a Day.' If you could mention that in your story, I'd sure appreciate it.'"

CG T-2 advised SAM ENGLISH has not been seen around Flash Records since it opened its new business location. According to CG T-2, SAM ENGLISH is apparently staying away from the Phoenix, Arizona area because of the law suit that is filed against him. CG T-3 advised that [redacted] mentioned above, is in the process of preparing legal papers which would order SAM and JOE ENGLISH to produce in court certain information relative to their personal and real property. According to CG T-3, there is somewhat of an awaiting action on the serving of these papers until SAM ENGLISH visits Phoenix, Arizona. b6 b7C

On September 28, 1964, [redacted] Clerk, Identification Division, Phoenix Police Department, advised that a search of his records failed to reflect an arrest record regarding JOSEPH P. ENGLISH, owner, Flash Records, 3907 East Yale Street, Phoenix. He did state that on October 28, 1963, one JOE ENGLISH, same above address, reported that a Royce Union Bicycle, 26 inch, had been stolen from him at Thomas Mall Shopping Center, Phoenix, on that same date. This report indicated that the stolen bicycle was subsequently found abandoned by the Police Department and returned to the above residence on October 28, 1963.

[redacted] advised that one JOSEPH ENGLISH, 3907 East Yale Street, was a victim of a burglary reported on December 16, 1963. The victim, ENGLISH, then indicated he and his family left his home briefly during the evening and upon their return, they found their house had been ransacked and approximately $700.00 worth of personal property had been stolen. The Phoenix Police Department failed to develop any logical suspects relative to this burglary and active investigation was subsequently discontinued. b6 b7C

On September 28, 1964, Sergeant [redacted] Maricopa County Sheriff's Office, Records Division, advised that a check of his files failed to reflect any information concerning a JOSEPH P. ENGLISH. b6 b7C

CG T-4 advised of having learned that a couple of individuals have gone to Rimrock-Ranch for the purpose of possibly buying the ranch. CG T-4 said that one of the individuals is a [redacted] Phoenix, Arizona. CG T-4 said the other party was (FNU) [redacted] Massh, Arizona.

The articles indicate that [redacted] was interviewed by the newspaper reporter [redacted] (same reporter who was at Rimrock Ranch when the furniture from the Cook County, Illinois Building arrived at the ranch) wherein [redacted] stated that he along with two Canadians, [redacted] were the owners of the ranch under a corporation known as Lake Montezuma Beach, Inc. [redacted] is quoted as saying "those two guys are Canadian millionnaires". "One of them made his money in the paper book business but he wouldn't tell who is winning." [redacted] is also quoted as saying "the ENGLISHs are out, all SAM had was a contract and when you make a contract you don't come up with the money, that's it. There's only the three of us in it. All I can tell you is we took the original mortgage out. I wouldn't tell you any more". Again in the above article GEORGE VYDRA was mentioned having made trips to the above ranch with SAN ENGLISH.

Rimrock Ranch
Arizona

The following newspaper article appeared in the "Chicago Tribune" on January 13, 1965. The article is entitled "VYDRA's Visits To Mob Pal's Ranch Probed," sub-heading, "Death Recalls Talk of Filming Protege":

"Sam (Butch) English, a juke box racketeer, once had plans to rent his 265-acre Arizona ranch to Hollywood movie makers, but the plans came a cropper.

"Thru his hoodlum brother, Charles (Chuckie), and his film capital connections, English hoped to transform his mountain redoubt in north central Arizona into a place for staging cowboy and Indian movies.

"In between filmings, investigators report, English planned to make the Rim Rock Ranch available for meetings to his fellow hoodlums across the country. This plan also failed.

"Hunt Club Plan Scuttled

"Also scuttled was English's announced intention to develop part of the sprawling ranch and its outlying guest houses as a 'poor man's hunting club.'

"For nominal annual dues, he proposed, one could hunt deer, antelope, and wild pigs as well as mountain lions in the rugged country 90 miles north of Phoenix.

"But a TRIBUNE story a year ago, detailing English's purchase of the ranch and his plans for use of the property, spiked the Rim Rock ranch projects and the ranch fell into disuse. Only a caretaker maintains it today.

"Singer and Vydra Guests

"Investigators told THE TRIBUNE, yesterday that Mrs. Jane Darwyn Walton, an Old Town night club singer, made a trip to the ranch in late 1963. She was a friend of George Vydra, a Berwyn alderman who was found dead under mysterious circumstances Christmas Day.

"Vydra also made several trips to Rim Rock that year, a few months before THE TRIBUNE's expose.

"At the time, plans for leasing the acreage to the Hollywood producers were discussed and there was talk, investigators said, of getting Mrs. Walton a part in one of the films.

"But the idea failed after publicity was focused on the ranch and its hoodlum ownership.

"English No Longer Cowboy

"Investigators report that English has made only a trip or two back to the ranch since the newspaper stories of Jan. 25-26, 1964. He discarded the cowboy costume he affected when a reporter visited him at the ranch. He also set about selling the property to a new corporation, but with his business associate, Marvin Browning, 47, of 1907 S. Austin blvd., Cicero, still as an officer.

"Browning, former secretary of Rim Rock Ranch, Inc., English's corporation, is now president of Lake Montezuma Beach, Inc., the new firm from Manitoba, Canada. Two Winnipeg investors, David Simkin and Benjamin Hatskin, obtain a $205,000 mortgage to seal the deal.

"Mystery Death Stirs Inquiry

"Vydra's trips to the Arizona ranch and his business and personal relationships with English, a top west side crime syndicate gambler and racketeer in the phonograph business, are the subject of an investigation by various authorities, including the Illinois Crime Investigation commission.

"Charles Siragusa, the commission's executive director, has voiced suspicion that Vydra's death by carbon monoxide fumes and acute alcoholism may have been murder.

"Vydra's body was found slumped in the front seat of a pickup truck parked at the rear of his family's butcher shop at 1604 S. East av., Berwyn, about 4 a. m. Dec. 25.

"Ignition Off, Motor Cold

"The ignition key was turned off, gasoline remained in the tank, and the truck motor was cold. Vydra 's father, Frank, 74, reported smelling no exhaust fumes in the garage when he found the body.

"After discovery of the body, authorities disclosed that Vydra had been fostering Mrs. Walton's phonograph recording career thru a firm with which English reportedly was associated."

The "Chicago Sun Times" issue dated February 3, 1965, in an article entitled "Act Against N. Side Club Linked To Loan Sharks" is set forth as follows:

"The city moved to revoke the liquor license of an Old Town night club Tuesday on the ground that crime syndicate loan sharks are the secret owners.

"On Mayor Daley's orders, Joseph Viola, the licensee of the Buccaneer, 1653 N. Wells, was directed to appear at a revocation hearing Feb. 15.

"The mayor acted on a police report containing evidence that the hidden owners of the Buccaneer are Joseph Grieco and his brother Don.

"The summons served on Viola charged that he held the Buccaneer license as a subterfuge for the Grieco brothers.

"Both brothers are awaiting trial on charges of beating a borrower who had fallen behind in payments of 'juice' (exorbitant interest) on a loan.

"A city food license held by Joseph Grieco was revoked by the mayor last March on the groung that Grieco was unfit to hold the license.

"The evidence unmasking the Grieco brothers as the bosses of the Buccaneer was assembled by detectives under Deputy Police Supt. Joseph Morris and Lt. John Corless, chief of the police license division.

"The license division stepped into the case after the police Intelligence Division pinpointed the interest held in the Buccaneer by the Griecos.

"The Sun-Times learned that the police report sent to the mayor's office showed that Joseph Grieco exercised the authority of hiring and paying entertainers at the Buccaneer.

"Moreover, the report disclosed, Joseph Grieco acted as the owner of the night club in negotiations over entertainers' salaries with the American Guild of Variety Artists.

"The tie-up between the Grieco brothers and the Buccaneer--which Viola claimed to have financed with loans totaling $80,000--came to light in the investigation of the death of a Berwyn alderman, Geroge Vydra.

"Before he died Christmas Day in what a coroner's jury termed a suicide. Vydra had placed his protege, Jane Darwyn, 27, a singer, in the Buccaneer.

"Miss Darwyn told authorities investigating Vydra's death that it was Joseph Grieco, rather than Viola, who had hired her at the Buccaneer.

"According to the police, Joseph Grieco used the name of "Emery" when he acted as the owner of the cafe.

"Vydra was a partner of another Cosa Nostra gangster, Sam (Butch) English, in a firm formed to promote recordings made by Miss Darwyn.

"Intelligence Division detectives found that the Buccaneer, under the alleged secret ownership of the Grieco brothers, became a hangout for such gangsters as English and two other hoodlum brothers, Fiore (Fifi) Buccieri and Frank (Big Frank) Buccieri."

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

1. Date March 3, 1965

CHARLES ENGLISH was interviewed at his request in the lobby of the Thunderbird Motel, 18401 Collins Avenue, Miami Beach, Florida, and advised of the following:

He has been in Miami Beach for about ten days and expects to depart for Chicago during the evening of February 24, 1965. He has been in Miami Beach with his wife. His brother, SAMUEL ENGLISH, was in Miami Beach two or three weeks ago and returned to the Chicago area after undergoing a serious heart disorder.

When asked as to his connection with SAMUEL M. GIANCANA of Chicago, ENGLISH noted that he has been a business partner of GIANCANA, off and on, over the years, but would not specify the capacity of this partnership nor give details thereof, except that of "betting partner" of GIANCANA at Chicago area race tracks several years ago. ENGLISH said that he has enjoyed a close personal relationship with GIANCANA since his youth and that he and GIANCANA grew up together as neighbors on Lexington Avenue in Chicago. When asked whether he was a member of the GIANCANA criminal element of Chicago, ENGLISH replied in the negative, stating that he was not aware of the fact that GIANCANA has any organization of that nature and secondly, he, ENGLISH, is strictly a "legitimate businessman" and has been so all of his life. He said that he has never "used the arm" in his life, and claimed that his troubles stem from his personal relationship with GIANCANA, blown up by "newspaper people" and law enforcement agencies into including him, ENGLISH, as a member of a so-called syndicate. ENGLISH claims that he has been indiscriminately harassed, followed, embarrassed and shamed by the investigation into his activities by the FBI and that he and his family and friends have been "bullied" by these tactics. When asked to cite specific examples, ENGLISH was unable to do so. He cited the FBI surveillance of GIANCANA as an example of the "unfair" tactics of the Government in its surveillances.

ENGLISH said that in spite of the obstacles from the Government and others, he has built a successful business in the form of Lormar, Inc. in Chicago; however, he states that his business would have been much better had it not been for the investigation conducted into his activities. He said that he is by no means the largest single record distributor in the Chicago area, that the Singer Company surpasses his business by four times.

ENGLISH was non-committal concerning (1) members of the GIANCANA organization, (2) his interest in the Rimrock Ranch in Arizona, (3) his net worth, and (4) the whereabouts and activities of SAMUEL GIANCANA.

ENGLISH said that he and his brother SAM still have the "5th Jack" Club in Chicago.

On March 19, 1965, SA HILL again observed ENGLISH in the Thunderbird Motel and prior to ENGLISH walking over to SA HILL, several hoodlums had approached ENGLISH but were given the wave off by ENGLISH. Among these hoodlums was [redacted] of Miami, Florida. The following is the results of the interview with CHARLES ENGLISH on March 19, 1965. b6 b7C

Date March 23, 1965

CHARLES ENGLISH was interviewed in the lobby of the Thunderbird Hotel, 18401 Collins Avenue, Miami Beach, Florida, at 11:30 AM. ENGLISH hailed the interviewing agent and commenced the conversation at his, ENGLISH's, behest, speaking mainly on matters of current events.

He declined comment as to his expected length of stay in Miami, saying that he is in the area for the purpose of vacationing and playing golf. He advised that he had played golf the day before, March 18, 1965, at the North Dade Golf Club.

ENGLISH touched on the various investigations being conducted by the Federal Government on himself and other of his associates, stating that this investigation was a "waste of time" in that he is a legitimate businessman. He admitted to numerous arrests during his early years, but states he has no convictions. He also admitted to a close association with SAM GIANCANA of Chicago, but denied knowledge of GIANCANA's activities. ENGLISH mentioned, in passing, that GIANCANA had at one time helped out his Government by assisting the CIA in an abortive attempt to "do away" with FIDEL CASTRO of Cuba, and had offered to set up his contacts in Cuba for contact by the CIA. ENGLISH refused to elaborate further regarding this.

ENGLISH mentioned that at one time, prior to six or seven years ago, a large share of his income was derived from betting at the race tracks in Chicago, and his success was due to a unique device developed by his associates, unnamed, whereby an individual was "wired for sound" on the back rail of the track and observed the horses as they took off from the starting gate. His observations were relayed to an associate near the one hundred dollar seller's window, who then relayedd the number of the horse in the lead to

Nothing more of significance was stated by ENGLISH.
